Children's Masquerade.

Those who attended the children's mask ball at the opera house last Wednesday night were agreeably surprised and brilliantly entertained. The children were out in full force, ranging in size from knee high to nearly grown, and they enjoyed themselves to the top of their bent.

The costumes were varied and brilliant and it would be impossible for The GAZETTE to enumerate them, save to say that they were brilliant and dazzling. There were in all about eighty-four masks and the fun was kept going at a lively rate until 12 o'clock and then some of them were loth to give up.

The following costumes were awarded prizes: Master Julius Seydler, as chief of Shiner Fire Company, received a prize donated by Mr. Philip Wellhausen, also little Ella Schramm as sponsor of the Fire Company. Master Dietrich Niemeyer as a fireman. Little Annie Emmer received the prize donated by Mr. John Valenta, for representing the Shiner Oil Mill.

The gross receipts taken at the door amounted to $56.50, the expenses were $29.00, leaving the neat sum of $27.50 for the school.

After 12 m., the grown folks took the floor and danced until 4 a. m. The music was furnished by the Shiner band and was highly satisfactory. The entire affair was a great success and reflects much credit on the trustees, Messrs. Helmers, Seydler and Kram, who had the affair in charge.
